

THE LIBERTY THEATER

Historic Dayton, Washington

est. 1910 restored 2001

If you are looking for a treat for friends and family, you better make plans to come down to the Liberty to enjoy our latest live production, Pure as the Driven Snow.

After directors Bret and Bethany Moser came across Paul Loomis' script about a young girl beset with unlikely problems, they decided they had to bring it to the Liberty. Compiling a great cast, the Mosers have created a magical production. Follow young Purity Dean through a series of delightful comic moments and thrilling cliffhangers. Audience members join in on the fun throughout the show.

Tickets: $12-$15 per person, are now available online at libertytheater.org and at the box office.

Great Deals Abound at Annual Sale

The annual 3rd Street Yard Sale returns on Saturday, May 6, and the Liberty is once again participating in the fun. Just head down the alley behind the theater, enter the Liberty Annex, and you will be sure to find treasures galore, from antiques to trendy like-new furniture to must have household items.

The doors open at 9AM, and if you are still roaming the aisle around lunchtime, we can provide relief there too, with our Chicken Teriyaki sandwiches.

Classic Musical is Coming to Dayton

Now that the fall musical decision has been made, it's time to get started with the fun stuff. Director Elizabeth Arebalos-Jageslki will be at the Liberty at 6:30PM on Tuesday, May 16 to discuss her plans for Rodgers & Hammerstein's The King and I and to explain the audition process. She will definitely need a number of children to round out the cast.

This phenomenal musical was also an Academy Award winning movie starring Deborah Kerr and Yul Brynner, and since the Liberty is also a movie theater, the TVAC Productions team decided to host a free public screening of the film at 7PM on Thursday, May 18 for the community.
